DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The trademark at page 6, line 21 is not capitalized.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 10, 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. Claim 1 lacks clarity in the absence of a transitional phrase which clearly sets forth a fabric electrode having a first surface as an element of the electrode arrangement. Further, absent such fabric being conductive, no structure is presented to effect an operable electrode. Claim 10 is vague as the reference to "an electrode" per se lacks antecedent basis. Claims 22 and 23 fail to positively position the electrode arrangements on the fabric so as to recite an operable device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Kater (3,993,049). The reference discloses a fabric electrode arrangement including a fabric patch 36 which may be conductive (column 5, line 51 – column 6, line 21) and substantially impermeable member, base 24 of connector 12, on the surface of the patch.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kater (3,993,049) in view of Bogusiewicz et al (5,427,096). Kater discloses the basic electrode except for the material being silicone rubber with carbon. Such a material for connectors is well known as disclosed by Bogusiewicz et al at column 3, lines 39-65. Given this teaching, it would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to substitute such a connector Kater since the result would be predictable. The particular resistivity is deemed to be inherent in the material.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed February 4, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Kater is still deemed to disclose the electrode arrangement as set forth in claims 1 and 2. The patch 36 is clearly disclosed to be a fabric as noted at column 4, lines 55-57, column 5, lines 61-62, and claim 4. Also, as shown in Figure 2, the skirt 24 is positioned for direct contact with the skin and is located on the surface of the fabric patch. In addition, as detailed supra, Bogusiewicz et al disclose the particular material of which the skirt 24 could have been made, and which inherently possesses some degree of flexibility.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 13, 15-21, 24, and 25 are allowed.

Claim 10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 22 and 23 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
